How serious is the coronavirus?

- it can cause flu-like symptoms, including fever, cough & difficulty breathing
- the infection is not serious for most people, including children

How likely are you to catch the virus?

- you can only catch it if you have been close to a person who has the virus

What should you do if you feel unwell?

Keep away from others and stay at home to stop the infection spreading. Avoid public transport if you think you have symptoms of coronavirus. If you become unwell at a place of education, tell a member of staff and let them know if you have travelled to any other countries in the last 14 days or had contact with someone who has coronavirus illness.

If your staff member or parent thinks you have symptoms of coronavirus, they should call the GP or NHS24 (111) for advice. Teachers and support staff should follow the Health Protection Scotland (HPS) advice for childcare or educational settings: www.bit.ly/HPS-Guidance-to-schools

Staff, students and pupils who have returned from Category 1 risk areas for COVID-19 within the last 14 days should self-isolate, and NOT attend education or work for 14 days, even if they feel well. You can find information about affected areas on the HPS website: www.bit.ly/HPS-coronavirus

Staff, students and pupils who think they have been in contact with someone infected with coronavirus should NOT attend education even if they are well, but should first contact their GP or NHS24 (111) for further assessment and advice.

See www.bit.ly/NHSinform-coronavirus for more information about coronavirus.

If there is an emergency, call 999 immediately and tell the call handler/operator that person has been in a risk area for COVID-19 or had contact with a case
